About Ataxia Ireland

Ataxia Ireland, formerly the Friedreichs Ataxia Society Ireland (FAS/), was founded in 1980 to support people and their families affected by genetic ataxias.

Our members are at the heart of Ataxia Ireland and we provide a range of services including:

- Support, right from the time of diagnosis, so that our members can live fulfilling lives
- Assistance with the provision of grants for medical equipment, house adaptations etc.
- Part funding of an Ataxia doctor at a specialist Ataxia Clinic in Tallaght Hospital.
- A social centre, providing regular classes/ activities for members
- An online forum for members to discuss relevant issues with each other and organise social events
- A series of information and social events to ensure members and their families are kept up-to-date with relevant information on the Ataxias and share experiences
- The support of local and worldwide research into Ataxia.

Our members, along with their families, continue to tell us how much they value the wide-ranging services which we provide. But, in today's financial environment, the ongoing provision of these services is becoming increasingly difficult.

We, at Ataxia Ireland, would very much value your assistance

About Ataxia

'ATAXIA' is a devastating disability which unexpectedly affects healthy children, usually between the ages of six and sixteen years.

It causes a progressive and destructive breakdown in the child's balance and co-ordination and a wasting of muscle power, leading to extreme difficulty in performing the normal, simple activities of living.

Ataxia is commonly associated with very serious conditions such as cardiomyopathy (heart), diabetes, dysphasia (swallow), scoliosis (curvature of the spine).

People with Ataxia will be confined to a wheelchair by their late teens/early twenties and will be dependent on personal and other community supports.

As ataxia is a genetic disorder; it is often the case that more than one child in the family is affected.

The extreme and excessive burden of care which falls on the family leads to many additional difficulties.

Families impacted by Ataxia face severe financial, physical and emotional difficulties.
